

PW 82 – Inv 231

[In the consulshop of Lupicinus and] Jovinus the [most distinguished: Month, date. To NN,] strategus of the Oxyrhynchite, from (at least 4 persons, including two whose names are Hesychius and Dionysius), councilment of the city of Oxyrhynchus and [curators of grain from Alexandria], through us whose signatures appear below. [We agree, swearing] the awesome holy oath of our [masters Valentinian and] Valens, everlasting Augusti, [that we have received . . .] and loaded into [our ships, from the produce of] the fortunate 11th new [indiction, or pure unadulterated grain,] unwetted and free of any fault . . .
