Paragraph three of the endorsement requested that MARY STRONG, Box 6435, Washington, D. C., be contacted and advised that "Pan Pal" letters are condemned under existing censorship regulations and that military personnel are discouraged in engaging in this type of correspondence. Also transmitted were two original applications from servicemen in the India-Burma Theater for membership in the Washington Social Letter Club run by MARY STRONG, Post Office Box 6435, Washington, D. C. Confidential Informant ☐ transmitted these items for information and such action as might be deemed advisable.

MARY STRONG was interviewed at her residence at 1461 S Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., and stated that her true name is Mrs. HENRY LINCOLN JOHNSON and that she is presently employed in the Production Division of the United States Maritime Commission, 19th and B Streets, Northeast, Washington, D. C., as a CAF-2 Clerk. She advised that as a writer she has been known by numerous names among which are GEORGIA DOUGLAS JOHNSON, PAUL TREMAINE, NINA TEMPLE, NINIVA GLADSTONE and that she conducts the Washington Social Letter Club under the name of MARY STRONG.

Mrs. JOHNSON advised that the Washington Social Letter Club has been in existence about eighteen years and is registered with the Recorder of Deeds, Washington, D. C. She stated that in conducting the business of the Club, she places advertisements in most of the negro newspapers in the Eastern and Southern states and develops her clientele in that way. She stated that she does not solicit members of the Armed Forces to join her club but that they learn of it through the advertisements in the newspaper and through other servicemen who are already members of the Club. She stated that the servicemen then write to her asking for application blanks which she sends to them.

Mrs. JOHNSON further stated that she had had some correspondence with the Office of Censorship during 1943 concerning the request of two servicemen from Selfridge Field. These servicemen had written to a newspaper, "The Pittsburgh Courier" requesting that their letter be published which asked individuals to write to them since they were lonely and received very little mail. Mrs. JOHNSON submitted this letter to the Office of Censorship for advice. Under date of July 17, 1943, the Office of Censorship replied to Mrs. JOHNSON as follows:

Office of Censorship
Washington, D. C.
July 17, 1943

Miss Georgia Douglas Johnson
Box 6435
Washington, D. C.

Dear Miss JOHNSON:

"We are returning the letter from two soldiers addressed to the "Pittsburgh Courier" and requesting correspondence. Publication of their letter or their names and addresses in an appeal for correspondence would violate the request we made of you in January and which you assured us you would follow.

"However, if you wish to give these addresses to some of your personal friends so they can write to the boys, this office will offer no objection because that does not involve publication.

"The War Department requests its men not to write to strangers and has appealed to the public not to write to strange men in the service. Your plan of having your friends write to the soldiers would be a matter for your judgment.

"We appreciate your inquiry and invite your questions at any time.

Sincerely yours,
Jack Lockhart
Acting Assistant Director
(Press)"

Mrs. JOHNSON stated that based on this letter from Censorship when transmitting application blanks to servicemen who write, she also sends them a mimeographed sheet reading as follows:

"Box 6435 Washington, D. C.
Washington Social Letter Club

"In accordance with OUR GOVERNMENT'S REQUEST I am only sending you ladies to write to whom I know personally. Those

I can vouch for their loyalty to the Army. I am therefore sending you War workers and personal friends and writing to you MYSELF also sending you papers from time to time.

"When the War IS WON as I know it will be VERY SOON, you will have a much wider range of correspondents. But while the war is on I must restrict you to loyal people as above stated.

"You have fought bravely and the PEACE is almost in sight. You will soon come marching home and I shall see that you have friends to welcome you.

"No matter how you may be broken by the war, don't be discouraged for these friends WILL REMAIN TRUE in spite of any handicap you may have suffered.

"SO, please remember, you have a friend in MARY STRONG who will give you other friends just as loyal. They will not turn away from you, no matter what your loss - they will feel all the closer to you - not in sympathy, but in ADMIRATION!

"Yours for winning the War and happiness in the COMING PEACE.

MARY STRONG"

Mrs. JOHNSON advised that at the present time she only gives the names of servicemen to girls whom she knows well and whom she has no reason to suspect anything but patriotic and loyal American citizens. She stated that these girls are mostly government employees.

Mrs. JOHNSON was advised of the War Department regulations regarding soliciting communications between persons in or attached to the military service and unknown individuals, and was also advised that under existing regulations letters of this type were condemned by the Military Censors.

Mrs. JOHNSON further advised that her name appeared in the publication "Who's Who in the Nation's Capitol" under the name of GEORGIA

WFO #19-34

DOUGLAS JOHNSON. It is observed that her name actually is included in this publication on page 447. This notation is not quoted herein.

Inasmuch as no further investigation in this case is indicated, it is being closed on the authority of the Special Agent In Charge.
