Neuralgia, Sick Headache

Rheumatism, and Pains in the Back and Side, when caused by derangement of the Liver and Kidneys, are relieved by the use of Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a prompt but gentle aperient is needed, these pills are recommended by leading physicians.

"I have derived great relief from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. Since that time I have always kept them in the house."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.

"For years, during damp and cold weather, I was tortured with neuralgia. Recently, on the approach of such weather, I began taking Ayer's Pills and have not had any of my old pains. I keep these pills always at hand."—Mrs. Martha Wiggin, Boston, Mass.

"I was afflicted, for four years, with rheumatism. The best of medical skill failed to give me relief. I finally began to take

It is usually occasioned by disturbance of the Stomach and Bowels. No better remedy can be taken than Ayer's Pills. They are a mild but thorough purgative, effectually removing the cause of the headache, by stimulating the assimilative organs to natural and healthy action.

"I have found that for sick headache, caused by a disordered condition of the stomach, Ayer's Pills are the most reliable remedy."—Samuel C. Bradburn, Worthington, Mass.

Dr. Geo. P. Spencer, of Unity, N. H., certifies that Ayer's Pills are far superior, as a cathartic, to any that are furnished by the Pharmacopoeia.

"For the past five years, and until I began taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, I suffered from sick and nervous headaches. A few boxes of these pills cured me."—B. O. Dings, Scranton, Pa.

"I have suffered intolerably with headache, and Ayer's Pills are the first medicine that really gave much relief."—I. S. Housnet, Rehersburg, Pa.

Mrs. Harriet A. Marble, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was, for years, a martyr to headache, and never found anything to give her relief until she began to take Ayer's Pills, since which she has enjoyed perfect health.

W. H. Strout, Meadville, Pa., writes: "I was troubled for years with indigestion, constipation, and headache. A few boxes of Ayer's

MUSICAL REVIEW

KUNKEL'S

FEBRUARY, 1889. KUNKEL BROS., Publishers, 612 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo. Vol. 12—No. 2.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One Year, Twelve Numbers, - - - $2.00
Single Number, - - - 1.00
This includes postage on paper, to all points except St. Louis.

Subscribers finding this notice marked will understand that their subscription expires with this number. The paper will be discontinued unless the subscription be renewed promptly.

Entered at St. Louis Post Office as Mail Matter of the Second Class.

THE publishers are more than gratified to learn by hundreds of letters sent them, that the change they made in the REVIEW, making it an almost exclusively musical paper, is appreciated and endorsed by its patrons. As many letters especially compliment the January REVIEW as an extra holiday number, they wish to inform all herewith, that the January number was not an extra holiday number. Each and every number of the REVIEW, hereafter, will be as large, if not even larger. Every number will contain $6.50 worth of music—the choicest instrumental pieces, studies, piano duets, songs, vocal duets, etc., worth during the year $75.00, and can be had for the little sum of only $2.00.

Now, in view of this fact, will every one of our patrons send us at least one new subscriber? Remember, any encouragement given to the publishers accrues to your own advantage, for your appreciation, thus shown, will stimulate them to still greater efforts.

You could not do a musical friend a greater kindness than to have him subscribe to the REVIEW. Show your REVIEW, play some of the pieces it contains, and see how easily you can obtain for us one, two, nay, three or more subscribers. May we hope soon to have the pleasure of thanking you? We trust so.

The March number will contain the following choice pieces:

PIANO SOLOS.

1. LOESCHHORN, A. Op. 84, Studies, Book III, Containing 14 Studies.
2. WAGNER-BRASSIN. Feuerzauber (Magic Fire) aus Richard Wagner's Walküre.
- KROEGER, E. R. Danses Caracteristiques, Op. 22.
3. No. I. Danse Espagnol.
4. No. II. Danse Negre.
5. No. III. Danse Sicilienne.
6. SIDUS, CARL. Op. 204. On Halloween.
7. KUNKEL, JACOB. German's Triumphant March. Edition de Salon.

PIANO DUET.

8. SCHUERMANN, A. P. Night Blooming Cereus, Polka Brillante.

SONGS.

9. TOSTI, F. P. Bid me Good-bye and Go. (Sag' mir Lebewohl und geh'.)
10. BISHOP, H. Lo! here the gentle Lark. (Horst Du der Lerche Lied)?

Coming—Moritz Rosenthal, the world-renowned pianist, will be here in February. M. Rosenthal has been heralded as the greatest pianist of our days, the successor of Liszt, and no one should let this opportunity pass without hearing him. To students of the piano, his recital will be of inestimable value.

REVIEW OF CONCERTS.

Mendelssohn Quintette Club—The Second Concert of the Mendelssohn Quintette Club took place on the evening of the 14th inst., and was well attended. The programme was excellent, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The club rendered Mozart's A flat Quartette (not Beethoven's, as was erroneously stated on the programme,) with vigor and brilliancy and with true fidelity to the composer's conception. Cherubini's delicate Scherzo from the Second Quartette was a welcome number, and Klinghardt's G minor Quintette—a work revealing excellent workmanship, musically throughout—closed the concert. Mrs. A. D. Cunningham was in splendid voice and her selections (the aria from Mozart's "Figaro" and songs by Reinicke and Mochring) were indeed finely sung. Mr. George Heerich contributed not a little to the success of the concert in his rendition of Sarasate's "Faust" fantasia, which was most enthusiastically received. The Mendelssohns are doing unusually praiseworthy work this season, which is certainly most appreciated by the subscribers to these concerts.

Musical Union—The second concert of the Musical Union, under the direction of A. Waldauer, Jan. 17th, drew a large and appreciative audience. The numbers rendered by the orchestra were of a light character, with the exception of Volkmann's overture "Richard III," and were well calculated to please a promiscuous audience. Mr. Waldauer deserves great credit for his conscientious attention to detail work in the development of the themes in the overture to Richard III, describing the tent scene, the battle, and Richard's death; the most subtle shadings were brought out in a thoroughly artistic manner. The soloists of the evening were Mr. Carl Faelten and Mrs. E. Huntington-Henkle. Mr. Faelten is a finished artist, excelling in delicacy of execution rather than force. Two of the compositions performed by him were from "Kunkel's Royal Edition," Chopin's 3rd Ballade in A flat and Liszt's Polonaise in E with new cadenza. Mr. Faelten made many warm friends, who will be pleased to hear him again. The piano used by Mr. Faelten was a magnificent Knabe Concert Grand. Mrs. E. Huntington-Henkle sang, in a pleasing manner, two songs. The aria from Faust was, however, entirely unsuited to her voice, which is a mezzo-soprano, obliging her to change all the passages that demanded the high B.

The next concert of the Musical Union will take place February 21st.

Franklin Council—This Council, No. 5, L. of H., gave its annual complimentary concert at Liederkranz Hall, Jan. 19th, to a full and select attendance. The programme varied, embracing some of our finest local talent. Mr. Frank Gecks, Jr., rendered a violin solo, "Fantasie Militaire" by Leonhard, with clearness of phrasing and brilliant execution; he firmly declined a demand for an encore. Mrs. Georgia Lee Cunningham greatly enhanced the attraction of the programme, singing "Regnava nel Silenzio," Donizetti, with encore, and "Close to the Threshold," Parker, in a sweet and impressive way; her vocalization and color is superb, nothing less. She had the perfect accompaniments of Mr. L. Hammerstein. The Male Quartette scarcely passed muster. The stage is a risky place to trust to luck, and when a tenor can hardly "get there" he ought to skim lower, to the greater comfort of his hearers. It is unpleasant to call attention to such a fact, and yet an encore was exacted while the favorite movements of Beethoven were but indifferently received.

One of the features of the evening was the piano duet, "On Blooming Meadows," waltz, Rive-King, by Mignon Shattinger and Adelaide Kunkel. The young misses, dressed with rich and exquisite taste were the very pictures of loveliness, and were heard with profound attention. The piece is a gem—sweetly irresistible—and calls for quite advanced and good work; but they were heart and soul together, and drew out its graceful phrases and delicate modulations with a really surprising intelligence. They unfolded a wonderfully neat and finished technique, and a purity of touch that is acquired only from the most painstaking and masterly teaching. They could stand beside professionals of twice their years and not suffer a whit. Mignon Shattinger is the daughter of A. Shattinger, the Broadway music dealer and one of the most earnest workers in the Council. Adelaide Kunkel is a daughter of the lamented Jacob Kunkel, who was known the world over, as an artist of the very highest rank, with a style of playing characterized by the rarest and most heart-reaching expression. The future of these young misses will be watched with interest, for it is plain they are in the best of hands. Dr. Chas. Shattinger gave a piano solo, "Nocturne," Op. 28, Meyer-Helmond (Kunkel's Royal Edition) with good finish and true interpretation, and proves he has not lost sight of his enviable attainment. F. Fischer was pleasing in a Bassoon solo, selected from Mendelssohn, "Quatuor," Op. 16, Beethoven, was performed with unflinching precision and fine ensemble by Messrs. Louis Mayer, cello, Frank Gecks, Jr., violin, F. Fisher, viola and Dr. Chas. Shattinger, piano. Master Machacek played "Merry War," Sidus, in capital style, and altogether charmed the audience. The Weber grand was the piano used.

St. Louis Choral Society—This organization gave its second concert of the season Thursday evening, Dec. 26th, performing Haendel's master work, the "Messiah." This oratorio has been annually presented by the society in the holiday week, ever since it was organized. The work, taking it all in all, was very even. The choruses, at times, was flat and not quite satisfactory; the reason why it was so, was explained, however, by an officer of the society. He informed us that the whole blame rested upon the abominably large stage, which precludes the possibility of the singers taking the right pitch from the orchestra, and that this evil would continue to exist until the directors of the Exposition hall built a sounding board shell, enclosing the stage, and that in the meantime, no good choral singing could be given. His explanation was perfectly satisfactory, for Mr. Gerieck, the great conductor, expressed the same opinion of the stage when he was here with his superb orchestra. He said at the time, that the stage was entirely too large and open for concert purposes, and should be closed by a shell. The solo work of our home singers was very good. Mr. Allen, with what voice he has, sang his part very intelligibly, and they that could hear him were pleased. Of Mr. Wiseman, we can only say, he was at his best. Being so well known to the St. Louis public, those that were not able to be present can imagine the success he scored. Mrs. Hardy, with her superb voice and method, sang with great sympathy, carrying off the palm for the evening. Her rendition of the aria "He was despised" was given with such warmth and true artistic inspiration, as to fairly captivate the vast audience. Haendel's sublime music was never sung better in St. Louis. Mrs. Moore Lawson, from Cincinnati, has a beautiful high soprano voice, and sang with ease and dash. Her best work was the rendering of "Rejoice;" here she displayed to great advantage, her easy method of vocalization. In answer to our query why Miss Juch, at the last concert, sang her aria from "Der Freischuetz" with piano accompaniment, instead of an orchestral accompaniment, and why Mme. Carreno played without the orchestra, one of the directors of the Choral Society informed us that the artist arrived too late for rehearsal on the day of the concert, coming at 12 o'clock instead of 9 o'clock A. M. As the members of the orchestra were already tired out by three hours continual work, and the piano was a quarter of a tone too high in pitch, rendering it impossible to play with the orchestra, the change had to be made. That this could not be obviated, no one regretted more than the directors.

MME. LOUISE NATALI.

THE New American Opera Company, under the able management and leadership of Mr. Heinrichs, has just closed an engagement in this city, that proved a success in all respects. The troupe, as a whole, is excellent. The orchestra, (that important but often neglected factor of a good operatic performance) though not very large, is sufficient, and, above all, is handled with consummate skill. The same thing can be said of the chorus. The soloists, all good artists, vie with each other in giving a correct interpretation of their respective roles and not (as is often the case) in trying to make themselves personally conspicuous at the expense of the true proportions of the art-work which they are engaged to properly set forth. All these things together result in a remarkably well-balanced performance which is really artistic and thoroughly enjoyable.

To say that the season just closed was a surprise to St. Louis opera-goers, is to put the facts all too mildly; indeed it was a series of surprises, each succeeding performance seeming to surpass the preceding one in perfection and finish, as each audience surpassed in numbers that of the previous night.

Without in the least detracting from the praise due to the other artists of the troupe, it is certain that the surprise of surprises was the wonderful artistic work done by Mme. Natali, the leading prima donna of the company, and the lady whose cheerful countenance serves to brighten this page. Mme. Natali is a St. Louis girl. She began her career on the stage in this city some eight years ago, in light opera, since which time she had not been heard here. At that time, she had had no systematic training for the stage, and, though she exhibited a voice of good quality and exceptional range and sang her parts in a musicianly manner, her voice lacked somewhat in fullness and her acting was that of a talented amateur. Since then, reports of her great advancement in her chosen profession had, from time to time, reached the ears of her St. Louis acquaintances, but it is as true of St. Louis as of any other place (sometimes we think it even more so) that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country," and these reports were all taken cum grano salis by those who had last known her as only a talented amateur. It was by no means an unfriendly audience, but it was certainly one which was disposed to be very critical that Mme. Natali had to face on the opening night in the role of Leonora of "The Troubadour." Her first scene assured her a hearing; the second won the good will of the public; the third established her claims to be considered an artist of the first rank. She had won the day and could say with Caesar: "Veni, Vidi, Vici!" Yet there was a lurking doubt whether she could sustain herself; whether her subsequent performances would not prove inferior to the first. Now, it so happened that the second principal soprano was unable to appear before the Saturday matinee and that (more mindful of the manager's interests than prime donne usually are) Mme. Natali came to the rescue and sang in seven out of the eight operas given, giving all ample opportunity to judge of her work. On the second night, as Violetta in "La Traviata," she was more brilliant still. Then followed, in rapid succession "Maritana," "Daughter of the Regiment," "Faust" and "Lucia," in all of which she repeated her successes, passing from role to role with wonderful versatility, excellent in all. At the last performance, in the mad scene of "Lucia" the now captivated auditors fairly rose to their feet, and by their numerous and enthusiastic recalls proved to the worthy artist that she was at least unreservedly acknowledged as a prophetess and anointed as a high-priestess of art in her own country.

The question which has so often been asked: "Who is to take the place of the obsolescent glories of the American stage, such as Kellogg, etc.?" To hear Mme. Natali is to have the question answered.

It must not be supposed that Mme. Natali, Topsy-like has "just grown" to what she is now. She has climbed to the height she occupies by means of long and faithful labor. We have said that even at her debut, when entirely inexperienced, she sang in a musicianly manner. This was because, even then, she was a musician. She had been a pupil of the Messrs. Kunkel, was an able pianist and had a fair knowledge of harmony and composition. She was besides an excellent reader of music. In her recent memoirs, Mme. Marchesi, the famous teacher of bel canto, insists upon the fact that the proper study of singing implies, indeed presupposes, the serious study of the piano and of musical composition. When, therefore, after several years of faithful self-culture Mme. Natali betook herself to Paris for a year's hard practice under the renowned teacher we have just named, she had the necessary foundation of solid musical knowledge which made it possible for her to study usefully, and fully fit herself for the position she now not only occupies but thoroughly fills.

To hear Mme. Natali speak of Mme. Marchesi, on the one hand, and upon the other, to read some of the letters which Mme. Marchesi has written to this country in reference to her pupil, it would puzzle one to determine which admired the other the most. As it is evident that each deserves the praise bestowed upon her by the other, there can be no valid objection to that little "mutual admiration society." With the modesty of true merit, Mme. Natali attributes no small share of her success to her early teachers. One of them has gone to his rest; the other here wishes her all the triumphs which her excellent work deserves.

Clarke—Madame Ysidora E. Clarke, who had hoped to take a pleasure trip to Boston during the holidays, and shake hands with old friends, was obliged to forego it, on account of a press of professional business.

North—J. M. North has returned from a holiday trip to New York, where he visited his father, a very hale man of 79 years. Mr. North has taught here the past twenty-three years and has been very successful. His recreations are spent in the fields and he is a keen lover of nature and a close student.

Smith—Miss Katie Smith, a promising young alto, took part in the concert given by the Holy Name Choral Society. She has entered into serious study, and we hope to hear of her success at some future date.

308 N. Sixth St., St. Louis.

St. George's Church—The quartette is done away with, and a boys choir substituted. In the Eastern States, to some extent, as well as in England, the boys choir is coming into prominence.

Collins—John A. Collins, Professor of Latin and Greek at the Christian Brothers' College, is likewise an accomplished cornetist, and lends valuable assistance to the College Band and concerts.

Ladies' Quartette—The K. J. B. Ladies Quartette respectfully announces that it is ready to accept professional engagements for either private or public entertainments. Its address is care of Mary Institute, Beaumont and Locust Sts.

Temple Israel—A. G. Robyn succeeds Prof. Galloway as organist at the Temple Israel. Mr. Otto Hein, tenor; Mrs. Glaser, soprano; Mrs. D. Ehler, alto, and Mr. Henry Groffmann, basso, compose the choir.

Allen—Mrs. R. E. Allen of Litchfield, Ills., after ordering thirty-two copies of the Alpine Storm by Charles Kunkel, for her classes, writes: "Since playing the Alpine Storm, all my pupils and friends are wild to learn it. It is all the rage here."

Mme. Adela Lucy—Mme. Adela Lucy need not wait till the clouds roll by; her pupils dived into the art treasures of the city and produced the handiwork of umbrellas, which they presented to her in testimony of their esteem.

Ehling—Mr. Ehling's regular Saturday Musicales, January 13, included the following numbers: Beethoven's C Minor Concerto, by Miss Hattie Dickinson; Mozart's D Minor Concerto, by Miss Emma Conrad; Hummel's A Minor Concerto by Mr. G. Vieh.

The Festival music in the churches was generally of a high order. At St. Xavier's, Hummel's 2d mass in E flat with orchestra, with Gilsinn's "Venite Adoremus" for three choirs. At St. Alphonsus' church, Giora's first; at St. Bridget's "Grand Italian Mass No. 1," and the same favorite work was given in the following churches: Holy Name, St. Kevin's and St. Cronan's.

Pipelaphone—Mr. J. C. Deagan, of 1904 Market Street, the inventor of the pipelaphone, has been highly complimented for his charming instrument. It has a sweet, flute-like tone with the rare advantage that it is very easy and grateful to learn.

Mrs. Huntington Smith gave one of the most brilliant musicales of the season. The programme was of a high order and was participated in by Mrs. Frank Waters of Colorado, Mrs. Huntington Smith, the hostess, Mrs. Julius Walsh, Mrs. Robert A. Atkinson, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. J. W. Shepherd, Mrs. H. C. Ives, Mrs. Broadus and Messrs. Doan, Parisi and Kroeger.

The One O'clock Club gave its second entertainment at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Shepherd. The hostess, Mrs. Humphrey, Misses Alexander and Barney, the K. J. B. Quartette, Misses Krausse, Studley, Russell, Mrs. Karst, Mrs. Wiseman and Misses Doan and Wiseman contributed fine numbers to the programme.

At the Fifth Anniversary and Camp Fire of Ransom Post G. A. R., at the Lindell Hotel, the following programme was rendered: "The Old Guard," Mr. W. M. Porteous; "Come, Haste and Seek," Miss Nellie Haynes and Mrs. Geo. H. Wiseman; "Liberty Duet," Messrs. Porteous and Yost; "Marguerite," Mrs. Geo. H. Wiseman; "Our Home is on the Bright Blue Sea," Geo. R. Yost; "Morning Invitation," Miss Nellie Haynes, Mrs. Geo. A. Wiseman, Mr. W. M. Porteous; Solo and chorus, "Marching Through Georgia," Accompanist, Miss Clara Stubblefield.

Bollman Bros. are about to remove to the spacious building at the N. W. cor. of 11th and Olive. Their business has overgrown their present large premises, and demands an entire large building for its proper display. They will also open in connection with their business, Bollman's Hall, with a seating capacity of about 600. It will be as elegant and attractive as art can make it, and a boon to professional men who hitherto have been driven to pay an exorbitant price for outside halls. Notably the Memorial, charging $40.00 per night, when $10.00 would be ample rent.

The great advantage afforded by a few of our churches in presenting the best works of choral literature is of priceless value to us, and should be adequately appreciated. They are not alone most excellent in an educational sense, but strike a responsive chord where routine church service fails. What more religiously suggestive than Dvorak's Stabat Mater recently given at the Church of the Messiah, or Spohr's Last Judgment at Christ Church Cathedral? The vast truths of our existence can not be ushered into our minds with greater solemnity and devotion than when attended by the geni of the great masters of music.

This month, an event of interest will be the 25th Anniversary of the organization of the St. Louis Musicians Benevolent Society. It was organized February 17, 1864, and has been in active existence ever since. Its roll contains one Frenchman, Nicholas Lebrun, who was elected President at its organization, and that operation has been repeated every year for 22 years, without however, any repeating at the ballot boxes, we trust. The honor is well placed, for Mr. Lebrun has gained the highest approbation of the society for the financially profitable disposition of its funds. The society has now $3,000 judiciously invested and a good amount on hand. The monthly dues are but twenty-five cents. The object is purely benevolent. It is the only society of the kind in the country.

Mr. John A. Mahler's regular monthly matinee took place at Vandeventer Hall, Saturday, Jan. 26th. The proficiency shown by many pupils was quite astonishing. Among those were Miss Ella Hodgkins, Dr. Hodgkins' daughter, Miss Mabel Holmes, daughter of D. S. Holmes, Delmar Ave., little Gertrude Parker, daughter of Geo. W. Parker, W. Washington Ave., and Miss Lucile Mahler, daughter of Mr. John A. Mahler, distinguished herself as usual.

A very enjoyable concert and hop was given at the Liederkranz, Saturday, Jan. 12th. The programme included an Italian play for solos and mixed choir by E. S. Engelsberg. The principals were Mrs. L. Hammerstein, soprano; O. Hein, tenor; Orlando C. Schraubstaedter, baritone; A. Reiss, bass; E. Froehlich, director, and Louis Hammerstein, accompanist.

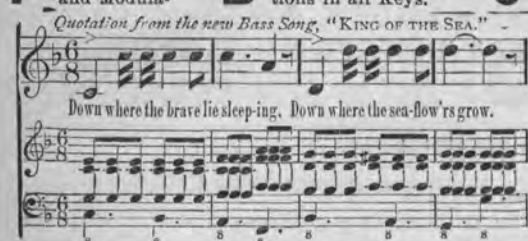

The installation entertainment of Alpha Council at the Exposition was assisted by Miss Fannie Frazier Payne, Miss Lillian E. Hyde, Miss Clara Stubblefield, Miss Nellie Haynes, Mrs. George Wiseman, Mr. Jesse Cornelius, Prof. Edward L. Perry, Mr. Wm. M. Porteous and the Alpha Dramatic Club, comprising Mr. S. A. Abeles, Mr. Nelson.

At the high mass for the Catholic Knights, Paolo Giorza's first mass was furnished by the choir of St. John's. G. A. Kissell organist and basso. Mrs. Liebke and Mrs. McFall, sopranos, Miss Flinn, alto and Jos. Goepfert, tenor. The offertory "Salve Virgo," by Max Alvary, was sung by Mrs. McFall. The benediction, Bassani's "O Salutaris," was sung by Mrs. Liebke. The choir sang Berge's "Tantum Ergo" after the benediction.

On the occasion of Mr. Specht's next visit to the city, the friends of Mr. Harry Walker will endeavor to secure Mr. Specht's services in a benefit concert to be tendered Mr. Walker in recognition of his valuable aid in the advance of English glee music.

Voerster—Of the few noteworthy non-professional musicians in the city, Dr. Engelbert Voerster ranks as one of the most gifted. A spirit of melody and feeling pervades all his works. The best known are "Love's Rejoicing" waltz for piano; this is also arranged for male quartette, and makes one of the happiest and most enchanting waltzes imaginable. "Vita" waltz for piano, a splendid teaching piece of the third grade. "Love Calls My Soul" and the "Christian's Longing," two songs of a high order.

The one regrettable feature of the New American Opera Co.'s advent in this city was the lack of timely announcements. Only the quick and disinterested favor of Mr. Ben Marx compensated, in a good measure, for its indiscreetly quiet approach. A company's first season is the most trying. Any incaution would be a grave mistake.

Annunciation—A well selected and pleasing programme was offered by the Young Men's Sodality of the Annunciation Church, at Liederkranz Hall, to a crowded attendance. Among the participants were Mrs. Dr. Lebrecht, the Misses Sands and Gray, Messrs. Dr. Harkins and P. Robert Klute. Messrs. Kissell and Halter aided in the accompaniments. To the Rev. James Coffey, ably assisted by Dr. Harkins, belongs the credit of scoring an extraordinary success.

The Orpheus Saengerbund under the direction of Fred. W. Norsch will repeat the concert given last December, at the Grand Opera House on March 3d. This is at the urgent request of the prominent citizens of South St. Louis, and speaks well in the cause of Wagner music, of which the programme largely consisted.

Mrs. W. B. Smith, soprano at the Church of the Messiah during 1888, resigned her position and returned to her home in Columbia, on the first of the present year. Her departure was deeply regretted by all who knew her, not only on account of her pure and sympathetic voice and artistic style, but also because of her charming personality. She made hosts of friends while in St. Louis, all of whom extend to her their best wishes for a pleasant and prosperous future.

Catholic Knights—The Catholic Knights' State Convention gave a most excellent concert and entertainment at the Exposition Hall on the 8th inst., under the direction of Prof. Goepfert. The programme included Mrs. Dr. Lebrecht, Miss Nellie Haynes, Mr. A. G. Robyn, Prof. McDowell, the Paragon Quartette, the Harmonie and Socialer Saengerbunds.

At a recent pianoforte recital given by Mr. E. R. Kroeger, the following programme was rendered:
Sonata, Op. 31, No. 2, Beethoven. Elegie, Op. 90, No. 3, Schubert. Spring Song, Mendelssohn. Ende vom Lied, Op. 12, No. 8, Schumann. Nocturne, Op. 32, No. 2, Chopin. Rhapsodie d'Auvergne, Saint-Saens. Ricordati, Gottschalk. Valse Impromptu, Kroeger. Walter's Prize Song from "Die Meistersinger," Wagner. Gondollera, Venezia E. Napoli, Liszt. Tarantella, Liszt.
